POLLARD IN RACE FOR GOVERNOR

Formal Statement of Attorney General of Intention to Run

BYRD ALSO IN RING.

Carter Glass, C. C. Carlin and Westmoreland Davis Spoken of in Connection with Position.

Attorney General John Garland Pollard makes the following announcement:

"Numerous inquiries have been received by me in regard to my possible candidacy for Governor of Virginia. It has been impossible up to this time to answer these inquiries definitely, because I had reached no conclusion. I have now finally made up my mind that I shall, at the proper time, formally announce my candidacy. While I make no attempt to conceal my gratification that so many should think me worthy to fill so exalted an office, yet it is a matter of regret that it has become the custom in Virginia to begin to agitate the question as to who shall be the next Governor before the Governor in office has served out half his term. My endeavor shall be to perform well the duties of the office with which the people have already honored me, and I hope that my public record will be such as to justify the position of those good friends who have already volunteered to support me for Governor.

"JNO. GARLAND POLLARD."

A dispatch from Richmond states:

"There are two other Virginians whose names have been linked with the Democratic Gubernatorial nomination. They are Representative Carter Glass, author of the new Federal Reserve act, and Representative C. C. Carlin. Neither has reached a decision as to his candidacy.

"Mr. Glass, although an anti-organization leader, has been told he would not be opposed by the State organization should he make the race. The Lynchburg congressman daily receives letters urging his announcement. The majority of these letters came from friends of Senator Swanson, who fear if Mr. Glass does not aspire for the Governorship, he will enter the race for the Senate against the junior Virginia Senator. Mr. Carlin's support comes from the organization, although it can be said that he will not run if Mr. Glass enters the contest.

"It is too early to forecast how the organization and anti-organization factions will line up in the next Gubernatorial race. Mr. Byrd, who has always been a strong organization man, broke with it three years ago and went over to Woodrow Wilson fo the Presidential nomination. Mr. Pollard always has been a pronounced anti-organization symphthizer in Virginia politics, and, leading the anti ticket, he defeated Judge Williams for the nomination for Attorney General two years ago, when Henry C. Stuart was nominated for Governor."

Mr. Pollard makes the second avowed candidate in the field, the other being Richard E. Byrd, United State District Attorney, for the Western District of Virginia, and former speaker of the House of Delegates. Mr. Byrd has never made a formal announcement of his intention, but is known to be a candidate. J. Taylor Ellyson, Lieutenant Governor, and Westmoreland Davis, former president of the Virginia Farmers' Co-operative and Educational Union, are prospective candidates.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Fanny Crosby, the blind hymn writer, died yesterday at Bridgeport, Conn. She was 95 years old. Eight thousand hymns, translated into every language and sung in Christian churches the world over, are attributed to her pen. Probably her most famous hymns are "Rescue the Perishing," "Safe in the Arms of Jesus" and "Saved by Grace."

The Audacious, one of Great Britain's finest and most powerful battleships of the superdreadnought class, reported to have been destroyed, will rejoin the grand fleet Monday. She will leave the shipyards of Harland & Wolff, Belfast, that day without a flaw in her hull or armament.

James Creelman, the American journalist, died in Berlin yesterday. Mr. Creelman underwent an operation in a santarium here two days ago. Mr. Creelman, who was 55 years old, was born in Montreal, Quebec.

Samuel Crotser, 55 years old, a bachelor of Athens, Ga., late yesterday shot and killed Frank and George Lynn, brothers, then set fire to his own house, and laying down amid the flames, blew off the top of his head with a shotgun. Crotser had been living on a farm owned by the Lynns and had been ordered to vacate.

An official statement given out at the French war office yesterday announced the complete failure of the German offensive in Poland. The statement follows: "The failure of recent attacks by the Germans in Poland appears to be complete. The losses of the Germans are unprecedented. It is reported that they exceed 40,000 dead."

Jacob Vogel, former president of the Citizens' Bank of Fruitvale, Cal., and his wife were found murdered yesterday in their home in Fruitvale, a suburb of Oakland. They had been beaten to death by burglars, who first trussed them up with ropes and Mrs. Vogel's apron strings.

Mrs. Joseph Kimbel, a farmer aged 70, was brutally murdered and her her aged husband, Joseph Kimbel, 72, fatally beaten by unknown murderers intent on fobbery, six miles west of Gibsonburg, Ohio, early yesterday.

A news agency of Rome sends out an interview with an anonymous statesman, who says Prince von Buelow, the German Ambassador, has offered the port of Fiume to Italy on condition that she joins Austria and Germany not later than March. Hungary, the story goes, will be compensated for the loss of Fiume by the annexation of Servia and Albania and thus will get an outlet to the Adriatic. The offer was approved by Baron von Burian, the imperial premier.

DAUGHTERS OF LIBERTY.

Friendship Council, No. 28, of L. held an interesting meeting last night. An invitation from Hope Council, No. 1, of Washington, D. C., for Friendship Council to attend a George Washington birthday party on February 23, was received and accepted, and a large delegation from the Council will attend.

The tickets for the Surprise Theater are good until February 25th, and probably longer time will be given the Council by Mr. B. B. Smith.

N. & W. STEAMBOAT CO.

New Board of Directors And Officers Head Corporation.

At the annual meeting of the Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Co., at the office, foot of Seventh street, Washington, the following directors were elected to serve during the coming year: John Boyd, D. J. Callahan, Daniel Fraser, Benjamin S. Graves, W. B. Hibbs, Clarence F. Norment, George W. Pearson, N. H. Shea, Odell S. Smith, Eylas T. Wheeler and Levi Woodbury.

Immediately after the annual meeting the directors elected the following officers: President, Levi Woodbury; first vice president, Clarence F. Norment; second vice president and general manager, D. J. Callahan; Odell S. Smith, secretary and treasurer.

OTHER COUNTRIES ENTER PROTESTS

Norway, Sweeden and Denmark Follow United States' Course

LESS POSITIVE TONE

Scandinavian Nations Suggest Joint Expression of Disapproval by all Neutral Powers.

Washington, Feb. 13—Following the lead of the United States, Norway, Sweden, and Denmark, it is learned, have directed notes to Germany protesting against the war zone decree. Although les vigorous in tone than the communication sent by the United States, the notes of the three counries are understood to stand firmly behind the principle enunciated by the United States.

This action the three Scandinavian countries decided to take after he United States had politely injected the suggestion of a joint expression of disapproval by all neutral powers. It is understood that Holland, and perhaps Italy, will also protest against the decree.

Reports received at the State Department this morning from Ambassadors Page and Gerard stated that the American notes had been delivered to the foreign offices at London and Berlin. Both communications, it is indicated, had aroused profound interest in the two capitals.

Ambassador Gerard, after presenting the war zone note to the German foreign office, had a conference for more than three-quarters of an hour with Baron Von Jagow, the German foreign secretary. What developed at this conference was the subject of a long cipher dispatch received by Secretary of State Bryan who declined to comment on it for the present. Apparently German officials are urging more moderation on the part of the German newspapers attacking the American note as an unneutral act, and this attitude is regarded as a hopeful sign that the German government will not force issue with the United States.

It is understood that Ambassador Page at London has obtained already an expression from the English foreing office that the action of the Cunard liners Lusitania and Orduna, in flying the American flag through the danger zone was not based on any specific instruction from the British admiralty.

QUAKE AND HURRICANE

Wind, Seismic Disturbances and Tidal Wave in Samoan Group.

Tutuila, Samoa, Feb. 13—Not only a hurricane, but with it an earthquake and a tidal wave devastated No Man's Island, of the Samoan group, as reported here two days ago. Fuller details show that three persons were killed, one of whom was beheaded by flying wreckage.

Entire villages disappeared. Thoce of which traces remained were ruined. All shipping either was destroyed or badly damaged. Three-fourths of the cocoa palms, on which the island depends for nourishment and its commerce in copra, were leveled and all the remainder injured. Some plantations were wiped out. It will be a year before any food plants can be brought into bearing again and 3,000 inhabitants are destitute. The American gunboat Princeton is conveying food, clothing, and temporary assistance, but the need for further aid is urgent, as the food supply is so low that starvation will set in before three weeks are out.

The South Seas have known hurricanes before, but the situation left in the wake of this one is described as unprecedented.

At the height of the storm the fury of the wind was unbelievable. Iron roofs were torn off and blown three miles. The very soil was torn from the coral rock and the coffins in new made graves were left exposed. At times the barometer stood at 27.50.

TREATY OF GHENT.

Governor Stuart Calls Upon Virginians to Observe Next Wednesday as Anniversary.

Governor H. C. Stuart has issued the following proclamation:

Whereas, by act approved March 25, 1914, the General Assembly of Virginia, desiring to provide for the celebration of a century of peace among English-speaking peoples, declared as a public holiday the hundredth anniversary of the exchange of ratifications of the treaty of peace between the United States of America and the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, commonly known as the Treaty of Ghent;

Now therefore, I, H. C. Stuart, Governor of Virginia, do hereby declare Wednesday, February 17, 1915, a day of thanksgiving and prayer in this State, and for this purpose a public holiday. At 12 o'clock noon on that day, and for five minutes thereafter, all travel shall cease and all labor, business, recreation, and active employment shall be suspended; and it is recommended that all persons in this State at that time address their hearts and minds to thanksgiving for the hundred years of peace between the two great English-speaking nations of the earth, and to pray that peace may endure forever.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the Lesser Seal of the Commonwealth to be affixed, at Richmond, this the fourth day of February, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fiteen, and of the Commonwealth the one hundred and thirty-ninth.

H. C. STUART, Govrenor.
B. O. JAMES,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

VON TIRPITZ'S POLICY

Would Sink British Ships and Drown Passengers.

Amsterdam, Feb. 13—Germany is beginning to realize that the impending blockade may not after all be sufficient to bring about Great Britain's doom, and the German press, under instructions from Grand Admiral von Tirpitz's press bureau, is launching schemes to improve the blockade.

The Deutsche Montags Zeitung publishes an open letter to Grand Admiral von Tirpitz, in which the following savage policy is advocated:

"As long as our blockade only destroys ships and goods it remains for England a question of money. Ships that are sunk are written off as a business expenditure, and the fight is unequal because Britain puts in only money while we put in our good men.

"Things will be different when British passengers are drowned. Persons acquainted with the psychology of England know that the German blockade will be effective only if it costs the lives of many English women and men."

POLAND'S FUTURE

Germany and Austria Said to Favor A King of Country.

Petrograd, Feb. 13—News has reached here from apparently authentic sources that Germany and Austria have declared the independence of Poland to become operative February 14 when it is planned to hold a convention at Cracow, Galicia, for the purpose of choosing a king.

It is stated that Archduke Karl Stephen of Austria is a likely candidate for the throne.

One report from Vienna says that the archduke has actually been selected by his uncle, the Emperor Francis Joseph, for the throne.

This is regarded here as a clear political move, designed as a blow against Hohenzollern supremacy.

The convention members, however, are to be elected by ballot by the population in such parts of Poland and Galicia as are now in the possession of the Austrians and German, it is said. Germany has yielded German Silesia to the proposed kingdom.

Pending the holding of the convention the temporary government is headed by Ignatz Daschinsky, socialist member of the Austrian reichstag.

GERMANY IN GLEE OVER VICTORIES

Russians Reported to Have Had Their Offensive Crushed.

RETREAT NEAR A ROUT

Thirty Thousand Prisoners and Many Guns, Machine Guns, etc., Fall Into Teuton Hands.

Berlin, Feb. 13—Again all Germany rejoices and once more it is the "old man of the lakes" who has aroused the national spirit. As the news continues to arrive from the East Prusian front, it becomes more and more apparent that the Russians have again had their offensive completely crushed. They have been expelled from German territory, and their retreat is described by officers who are cognizant with the situation as "dangerously near a rout."

While the Germans are pursuing their late antagonists who a week ago were confident that they held all of East Prussia in their grasp, only the meager details of the victhe general staff report places the numbers of prisoners as not less than 30,000, with many guns and machine guns and enormous quantities of war materials. In addition, it is declared the Russians had many of their crack first line forces, including the Siberian rifle corps, badly cut up.

LOCAL BREVITIES

Don't fail to attend the Minstrel Show that is being given by Christ Church Sunday School Monday night at 8 o'clock. Admission fifteen cents.

SURPRISE MONDAY.

The very essence of Jack London's charm and fascination have been transferred from the book to his remarkable motion picture, "The Sea Wolf."

The first picture is a reproduction of the collision which occurred in San Francisco Bay some ten years ago between the ferryboats, "Martinez" and "Sansalito." This is conceded by motion picture experts to be the most realistic scene ever enacted before a camera.

The characters interpret their parts with extraordinary comprehension of the outhor's creations. Larsen, the Sea Wolf, is played by Hobart Bosworth, and absorbs the spectator throughout. Larsen is a psychological enigma. The rough captain of a pirate sealer, he is heartless. On the other hand, he is naturally refined. He loves the beautiful, and longs for the happiness of the normal man in daily life. Denied these, he accepts life as stoic. Even lying blind and stricken, knowing his last days have come, he remains undaunted.

A shipwreck provides the girl for the love story. The spectator sees mere acquaintance develop into a romantic attachment amid conflict and cruelty and strife.

The final scene brings a happy solution, and the spectator shares the gladness felt by the sweethearts when their shipwreck experience is ended and they once more reach civilization and home and friends.

LEGISLATURE TAKES RECESS

Essential Tax Measures Now in the Hands of Gov. Stuart

COMMITTEE TO WORK.

Will Study the Existing Laws and Study to Perfect a New System to Satisfy All.

Richmond, Feb. 13—The General Assembly of Virginia last night entered upon the three weeks recess provided by joint resolution, the Senate adjourning at 9 o'clock and the House of Delegates at 9:45.

All of the tax reform bills essential to the administration's partial segregation scheme of taxation have been passed, and are now in the hands of Governor Stuart. These measures, forming the main body of the segregation plan, were sent to the Governor by Clerk John W. Williams, of the House, yesterday afternoon. Only the signature of the Governor remains to be affixed to them to make them operative.

The joint committee of fourteen, seven from the Senate and seven from the House, was appointed yesterday afternoon. The appointees of President J. Taylor Ellyson, of the Senate, are: Senators B. F. Buchanan, of Smyth; George Latham, of Fletcher, of Fauquier; James E. Cannon, of Richmond; John Paul, of Rockingham; John R. Saunders, of Middlesex; J. Harding Walker, of Northumberland, chairman of the Committee on Courts of Justice, and W. A. Garrett, of Henry, chairman of the Finance Committee.

From the House Speaker Cox designated the following: Speaker Edwin P. Cox, of Richmond; Walter T. Oliver, of Fairfax; chairman of the Courts of Justice Committee; Aubrey G. Weaver, chairman of the Finance Committee; Martin Williams, of Giles; Hugh A. White, of Rockbridge; Richard L. Brewer, Jr., of Nansemond; J. N. Stubbs, of Gloucester.

This joint committee will sit in Richmond for the next three weeks, examining the tax measures passed by the Legislature and signed by the Governor, and comparing them with the existing laws, with a view to detecting and correcting any conflict of the statutes and assembling into exact legal form the tax bills that are to be incorporated in the new scheme of taxation.

The essential bills, constituting the foundations of the system, which have been passed by the Legislature in special session, and to which will be added other measures to be approved by the point committee in the next three weeks, are House bill No. 8, which provides for the segregation to the State of certain subjects of taxation; Senate bill 63, which creates a State advisory board on taxation, and provides for city and county boards of review of assessments, and House bill 21, which provides for the taxation of bonds, notes, etc. known as the "income tax bill."

Numerous other bills, a few of which pertained to taxation, were passed by the General Assembly, and most of them have been signed by the Governor. The executive will scrutinze the essential tax measures very carefully before giving them his signature.

The General Assembly will meet again March 8.

Charged With Permitting Handbills to be Scattered Promiscuously in the Streets.

Eleven retail merchant of Alexandria were haled into Police Court this morning on the charge of distributing handbills in the street or permitting them to be distributed in such a way as to litter up the public highway.

Several years ago Council passed a law imposing a fine for distributing handbills, but it has not been enforced up to the present time. The practice of distributing handbills, however, has increased to such an extent that the authorities were compelled to begin a crusade to stop the practice.

The merchants summoned today were B. Liberman, M. Sperling, F. U. Pullin, Gotkinst and Chadekel, D. S. Crockett, W. H. Helms, E. Hayman, M. Fagelson, and M. Loeb. In nine of these cases fines of one dollar each were imposed and two of the merchants failed to appear in court.

Justice Caton announced that heavier fines would be imposed for a second conviction.

ANNIVERSARY OF TREATY OF GHENT.

The proclamation of Governor Stuart calling upon Virginians to observe next Wednesday as the one hundredth anniversary of the Treaty of Ghent is published elsewhere in the Gazette. While there has at times during the past century been occasional friction between the United States and Great Britain, relations between the two great English-speaking nations have become more and more cemented as time goes on. Sympathy of one for the other has in recent years become more pronounced, and it is hoped nothing will arise to disturb the waters in the future.

During our civil war Queen Victoria and the Prince Consort showed their friendliness to this country and one year before, when the Prince of Wales later King Edward VII., visited Canada, the queen and her royal escort directed him to visit the United States while he was on this side of the globe. The heir apparent to the British throne was received with every courtesy due his rank, and he enjoyed mingling with the people of the United States.

At times, when England has been passing through ordeals, Americans in London have participated in the joys and sorrows of Englishmen.

During the Boer war, when Great Britain had to put forth her mighty arm in order to bring peace to South Africa, the British and American colors were intertwined and worn in the buttonholes of both British and American subjects.

It is an unfortunate coincidence that on the one hundredth anniversary of the proclamation of peace between the mother country and its vigorous offspring there should be anything to disturb pacific relations. But there is. The United States has been forced to assert itself by sending a positive note to the British government protesting against the use of our flag by British vessels during the unfortunate war. But it is pleasant to note that the London papers, that is those believed to be uttering the sentiments of the country, say the United States note is fair.

It is hoped that before next Wednesday this incident may have passed away and that "peace, sweet peace," may be more pronounced than ever between the United States and Great Britain.

REMINDER FROM THE POLICE COURT.

Eleven shopkeepers were cited to appear in the Police Court this morning to show cause why they should not be fined for causing showers of dodgers to be scattered broadcast on our streets. These missives were in the shape of handbills containing price lists, which were cast upon the streets and sidewalks throughout the city in order to attract the attention of prospective purchasers. Nine of the delinquents appeared in court, all of whom were fined one dollar each and warned of the consequences of a continuation of the practice.

While the authorities are ever ready to facilitate the business of our merchants, they are also anxious to keep the city tidy, and in this they have the support of the great mass of the community. It is a difficult matter for the police to identify every violator of sanitary laws, as most of the perpetrators are children, some of whom know no better; hence banana and orange rinds are common on our streets. Paper is thrown broadcast by the unthinking, to the annoyance of people who endeavor to keep their premises presentable.

Now that improved roadways and sidewalks are being multiplied in Alexandria it would seem that all citizens should take pride not only in keeping everything unsightly from their own street fronts, but also from their neighbors'.

The Civic Improvement League a few years ago labored assiduously toward this end, but, in many cases, places they were instrumental in having cleaned up were soon thereafter rendered unsightly.

The casting of printed literature broadcast in the streets is especially objectionable, and it is hoped those who were made to face the bar this morning will realize the importance of doing their part towards keeping our thoroghfares in a sightly condition in the future.

RECOMMENDS SUICIDE.

John Brown, organizer of the United Mine Workers, who played a prominent role in the recent labor wars in Colorado and Michigan, spoke at a mass meeting of unemployed in Pythian Temple Washington, last night He said:

"The unemployed must organize, and if they refuse to unite in an effort to better their condition, there is but a single remaining solution of the problem—suicide. To the men who refused to get together. I would recommend that they read Ingersoll's essay on 'The Right of the Individual to Commit Suicide' and finally jump into the river.

"But be careful. If you jump, to see that you make a good job of it, or else you may get locked up. The unemployed hasn't a single right. If he begs he is arrested; if he steals he is arrested, and alas! even if he jumps into the river and fails to drown he is arrested."

John Brown boasts he is wanted to answer thirteen indictments, varying in character from murder downward.

About sixty days will have elapsed before the present winter shall have become a thing of the past. The fact that many thousands of industrious men have been forced to spend the present season in idleness is to be deplored, and we hope that by the advent of spring the sluggish times through which we are passing will undergo a great transition, when work will be in reach of all.

But, in the meantime, language akin to that uttered above will not appeal to the rank and file of laboring men, and it seems strange that honest and industrious toilers will listen to such suggestions without protest or, at least, a murmur of disapprobation. A man who commits suicide in order to escape the responsibilities of life is not of the proper mould. If animated, by the true principles of manhood, he will endeavor to rise superior to his difficulties. The dreams of Pharaoh but depict the experience of all sons of Adam. The fat kine are followed by the lean, and the full ears of corn by the blasted.

AERIAL WARFARE.

Thirty-four British Aeroplanes Drop Bombs in Northern Belgium.

London, Feb. 13.—Aerial warfare was waged yesterday on the largest scale in its history, and under adverse circumstances, from the standpoint of the weather. British airmen, buffeting banks of snow in the air, swept over cities of northern Belgium, held by the Germans, and dropped bombs on Ostend, Bruges and other places.

Thirty-four aeroplanes and seaplanes of the British navy took part in the operations, and all of them later returned safely to their base without casualities to their drivers, although two of the machines were damaged. The raid was made in order to prevent the development of submarine bases and establishments which might further endanger British warships and merchantmen.

State Veteran Commits Suicide.

Bowling Green, Va., Feb. 13.—Harry H Dyson, who lived near Point Eastern, committed suicide on Wednesday night by cutting his throat with his pocket knife.

He was 74 years old. He was a Confederate soldier and belonged to Thornton's Battery.

A jury trying a suit for $250,000 damages brought against E. N. Breitung, millionaire owner of the steamship Dacia, by Max Kleist, who married Miss Juliet Breitung, the defendant's daughter, was discharged today in the Federal Court in New York yesterday because of the publication of stories to the effect that Kleist had been twice assaulted since his wife had ceased to live with him. The court held that publication of these stories would doubtless tend to influence the jury in Kleist's behalf. Kleist based his action on alleged alienation of his wife's affections from him by her parents.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Juniors Entertain Sophomores And Seniors at Valentine Reception Last Night.

At one of the most beautifully appointed of the entertainments this year at the High School the Junior Class entertained the classes of 1915 and 1917 last evening. The large hall was decorated with hearts strung from the large light, shaded by red crepe paper, at the center of the ceiling to places along the sides of the walls. The staircases were also decorated attractively. Games and other amusements were indulged in as soon as the guests arrived, one of the favorites being the Barnyard Election and the noises made by the imitators were most realistic. A contest was held to see who could pin the small hearts over the center of the large red heart at one end of the room. Miss Sarah Cox was the lucky one and received a pretty Valentine box of candy as a prize. At nine o'clock the boys were sent off to find hidden hearts and the girls small cupids which were all numbered and which had to be matched for places at supper. After the refreshments the fun was again commenced, keeping up until the time to depart.

The regular meeting of the A. H. S. Literary Society was held last Saturday night, when a most interesting program was rendered. Declamations were delivered by William Morton, Miss Mary Nalls, Gus Pohl, Miss Frances McDermott, Miss Gertrude McDermott. The subject for debate was, "Resolved, that an amendment should be passed to the Constitution of the United States providing for nation-wide prohibition." The affirmative was argued by Leo Pohl and Miss Lucy Reardon, and the negative by Miss Hilda Schneider and Irine Risheill. The judges gave a decision in favor of the affirmative. After the Critic's report the meeting adjourned.

DR. ALLISON'S ADDRESS

Alexandria Pastor Speaks on "The Power of Co-operation" at Charlottesville

The twenty fourth annual convention of the Virginia Sunday School Association, which had been in session in Charlottesville since Tuesday afternoon, adjourned Thursday to meet next year in Newport News.

Measured by attendance, application to work and enthusiasm, the session is unanimously pronounced the largest and best in the history of the association.

The address of Wednesday was made by Rev. J. L. Allison, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church of Alexandria on "The Power of Co-operation." He stated that the great duty of the Christian is to serev. This can best be done by co-operation and co-ordination. The sphere of this Christian service in co-operation is best found in Sunday School work. He illustrated this by saying that the business world is conserving, and railroads and other corporations are learning to do business on a large scale, by combination of resources. He referred to the condition of Greece in the Pre-Christian era, divided by petty factions, but united, when the Persians, under Xerxes, knocked at its gates. To do our best as Christians, we must stand a united Protestant Church. Organic union is not possible, but we can co-operate in Christian fellowship and Christian service. This in no way tends to eliminate the denominational lines, but we hold many of the fundamentals of Christianity in common, and should realize that, "One is your Master, even Christ and all are brethren." The Christian world is writing a new chapter. Its headlines are, "Co-Operate and Co-Ordinate, that the World may be brought to Christ." By doing this, we shall solve the problem o fthe conservation of childhood. By co-operation, we shall discourage an unholy competition among churches. "Every church for itself is as evil and as selfish as every man for himself," was a statement he emphasized. Church loyalty is not to be decried, but Sectarianlem of the conservation of childnation conserves our resources. We are anxious for the conservation of forest and stream. We must be more anxious for the conservation of our means, our power, and our men. Conservation will develop our latent power and unused forces to an enormous extent.
